Brooke Cucinella is an associate in O'Melveny's New York office and a member of the White Collar Defense and Corporate Investigations Practice. Her practice focuses on representing individuals and institutions in white collar enforcement matters, as well as civil and criminal antitrust matters.

Illustrative Professional Experience

- Representing a microprocessor manufacturer in one of the largest antitrust cases in American jurisprudence history.
- Representing a Fortune 500 corporation in parallel civil and criminal antitrust cases.
- Representing the former employee of a financial institution in antitrust and SEC investigations related to the municipal finance industry.
- Representing a plaintiff in a Federal Torts Claim Act with respect to deprivation of medical care in a federal institution.
- Represented the former CFO of a technology company in a stock option backdating investigation by the SEC.
- Assisted the Independent Consultant to a reinsurance company that had settled an enforcement action with the SEC. Work included a comprehensive review of the company's control environment, including policies and training.
