

Bill Trac

Counsel

San Francisco
D: +1-415-984-8910
btrac@omm.com

Bill Trac is a litigator specializing in intellectual property, including patent, copyright, trademark, and trade secret. He has represented numerous high-technology clients in proceedings before district courts, the Federal Circuit, and the International Trade Commission.

Bill has experience litigating a wide variety of technologies including cellular data transmission, data synchronization, network security, geolocation, mobile device user interfaces, medical devices, and digital cameras. He applies in-depth technical knowledge and sharp analysis to advocate for his clients.

Experience

- Representing a California-based semiconductor company in a trade secret matter involving network-switch technology
- Representing numerous companies in patent infringement actions relating to a variety of technologies including smartphones and tablets, set-top boxes, coaxial cable standards, medical devices, data transmission, and antivirus software.

Corporate & Government Experience

- Engineer, United States Department of Energy (2006-2008)

Admissions

Bar Admissions

US District Court, Northern and Southern Districts of California
Federal Circuit

Education

Harvard Law School, J.D.
University of California at Berkeley,
B.S., Engineering Physics: with high honors

Professional Activities

Externships

- Honorable Helen S. Gillmor, US District Court of Hawaii (2009)

Certifications

- Certified Information Privacy Professional - United States (CIPP/US), IAPP