

Kayla Haran

Associate

New York
D: +1-212-728-5913
kharan@omm.com

Kayla Haran is a litigation associate in O'Melveny's New York office. Kayla focuses her practice on consumer class actions, privacy and data security, financial services, and other complex commercial disputes, as well as regulatory matters and related investigations.

Experience

- Defended a multinational investment bank and financial services company in a putative class action challenging overdraft fees.
- Advised a provider of residential and commercial mortgage loans in an investigation regarding a data security incident.
- Defended a multinational financial institution in connection with an investigation of potential claims relating to dividend recapitalizations and related transactions from a former portfolio company that filed for Chapter 11 protection.
- Defended a leading manufacturer of consumer packaged goods from consumer class action claims related to labeling and contents of pet food products in a multi-district litigation.
- Litigated a pro bono wrongful death suit brought against the City of New York on behalf of an inmate who committed suicide in jail.

Languages

- Italian

Admissions

Bar Admissions
New York

Education

Harvard Law School, J.D.; Editor-in-Chief, Harvard Journal of Law & Technology
American University, B.A., Law & Society: summa cum laude