Amy S. Park focuses her practice on high-stakes commercial disputes, including complex business litigation, securities class actions, shareholder derivative suits, corporate governance disputes, internal investigations, and M&A litigation. While Amy's practice spans several sectors, her clients have primarily been in the technology, pharmaceutical, and healthcare industries.

Recognized for her depth of experience in securities, business and financial disputes, Amy was named a Lawyer of the Year for Securities Litigation in the 2019 edition of Best Lawyers and is listed in the publication's securities and commercial litigation categories. Amy writes and speaks regularly on developments in securities and other class action litigation. In 2020, she received a JD Supra Readers' Choice Award for her articles covering developments in class action litigation.

Amy is active in a variety of initiatives that empower women lawyers to reach the highest levels of success. The National Diversity Council awarded her its Leadership Excellence in the Law award, which recognizes attorneys who have "distinguished themselves through their leadership, resolve and outstanding achievements for their clients." Additionally, Amy has been named one of California's Most Powerful and Influential Women by The California Diversity Council. She has been recognized by the Silicon Valley Business Journal as a Woman of Influence and was the recipient of a Wise Woman award from Deloitte.
