Oakley Selected to Law360's 2016 Banking Editorial Advisory Board

March 01, 2016

O'Melveny partner Danielle Oakley will serve on Law360's Banking Editorial Advisory Board for 2016. The purpose of the board is to gather feedback on Law360's coverage and "to gain insight from experts in the field on how best to shape future coverage," the publication noted in a February 25, 2016, announcement.

Based in O'Melveny's Newport Beach office, Oakley guides banks through process overhauls, as well as internal- and external-facing compliance reviews with respect to deposit products, consumer bankruptcy, mortgage origination, and both reverse and forward mortgage servicing.
