O'Melveny, Cravath Lawyers Named Litigators of the Week By American Lawyer

July 31, 2015

The American Lawyer highlighted O'Melveny & Myers partner Jonathan Hacker as its Litigator of the Week. Hacker, along with Cravath, Swaine & Moore's Keith Hummel, convinced a federal appeals court to dismiss remaining claims accusing Ford Motor Co. and International Business Machines Corp. of contributing to human rights abuses in South Africa, according to the feature.

Hacker is a partner in O'Melveny's Washington, DC office, and Chair of the Supreme Court and Appellate Practice. He is also the hiring partner for the DC office.
