O'Melveny's Mathieson Authors Article for Corporate Counsel on the Supreme Court's 2012 Term

October 11, 2012

In the latest in a series of columns by O'Melveny & Myers LLP lawyers examining the intersections of the political and legal worlds in the run-up to Election Day 2012, San Francisco counsel Anna Rose Mathieson authored the article "The President and the Court: Shaping the Supreme Court's 2012 Term," for the October 10, 2012, issue of Corporate Counsel.

In the article, Mathieson discusses how the next president can shape the Courts decisions through advocacy and control of judicial appointments and provides relevant analysis for two upcoming cases: Fisher v. The University of Texas and. Kiobel v. Royal Dutch Petroleum.
