“The Pessimists Archive” Podcast: The Good That Comes From Pandemics

May 11, 2020

O'Melveny partner Heather Meeker was featured in an interview on “The Pessimists Archive,” a technology-focused podcast hosted by the editor-in-chief of Entrepreneur magazine.

Meeker discussed how COVID-19 could lead to a period of exciting technological advancements, especially in the open source software space. “People are going to be starting projects that are going to be extremely interesting and valuable in a year or two,” she said.
