Almeling to Speak at the California State Bar Cyber Institute's Trade Secret Considerations for In-House Counsel and Executives

January 11, 2011

O'Melveny counsel David Almeling (SF) will speak at the California State Bar Cyber Institute's "Trade Secret Considerations for In-House Counsel Executives," to be held January 11, 2011. The one-hour continuing legal education seminar is directed primarily to in-house counsel, executives and lawyers advising smaller companies. The program is a primer on trade secret law from their perspective, including how to hire and terminate employees, how to implement effective information and physical security, and how to work with outsiders without losing trade secret status.
