August 7, 2013

O'Melveny counsel David Almeling (SF) will speak at a State Bar of California CLE webinar titled "Patents vs. Trade Secrets: Best Practices for Protecting and Enforcing IP" on August 7, 2013. The webinar will take place from 12:00pm - 1:00pm and attendees will get 1 hour of CLE credit.

Here is what the website says about this topic:

This webinar will explain why trade secret litigation has doubled in each of the past few decades. How this increase and other factors change the decision-making process for protecting IP with a patent or by keeping it as a trade secret will be discussed. The webinar will also cover the benefits and risks of asserting litigation involving both patent and trade secret claims. This interdisciplinary webinar will benefit anyone involved in the acquisition, management, or litigation of patents or trade secrets. Learn how the recent U.S. Supreme Court Myriad case may impact the patent vs. trade secret decision.
