Dunham to Teach at Environmental, Health, and Safety Law Seminar

March 9-10, 2009

O'Melveny partner Scott Dunham will be teaching a workshop at the "The Certificate in Environmental, Health & Safety Law Seminar" for the Institute for Applied Management & Law, Inc. in Newport Beach on March 9 and 10.

This seminar provides participants with insights into how current laws and regulations are affecting environmental, health, and safety law, and how these laws are being enforced and interpreted. Divided into two blocks, Dunham will teach the two days of Block I: "Occupational Safety and Health Law and Special Issues." Block II: "Environmental Law" will be taught by Steven Lichten, President, ESCI EnviroServices and Ethan Ware, Partner, McNair Law Firm.
