Longo to Speak at Carmel Valley eDiscovery Retreat

July 22-25, 2012

O'Melveny partner Amy Longo (LA) will be a panelist on the topic of Ethics and Strategies of Cutting Edge Tech in Your Discovery Plan at the Carmel Valley eDiscovery Retreat to be held July 22- July 25, 2012 at the Monterey Plaza Hotel & Spa.

Here is what the website says about Amy's panel:

Analytic technologies such as clustering, social networking and Technology Assisted Review offer dramatic insight and cost savings. How can you know if they are right for your discovery lifecycle? Are you ready to take ownership of these 'cutting edge' systems? This session will explore the people and processes needed to integrate and support advanced technology as part of your evolving eDiscovery lifecycle.
