“The practice is the result of what I perceive as a transformative time in Southern California,” said Boggs. “There is a migration of major technology companies choosing the Los Angeles market” and “we see this as a major opportunity to be involved in this transformation and to help these companies succeed in their business plans.”

O'Melveny MediaTech is led by Boggs and consists of over 20 lawyers in O'Melveny's New York and California offices who are experienced in entertainment, media, technology, or venture capital.
