Partner Leah Godesky has been selected as one of The National Law Journal's 2019 "Winning Litigators." These lawyers were recognized for taking on matters with high-stakes and winning.

When asked about her biggest court victory recently, Godesky said: "our win in Kentucky was the result of a yearlong collaboration between O'Melveny and the ACLU [American Civil Liberties Union]. It's a privilege to work shoulder-to-shoulder with subject-matter experts like the amazing team at the ACLU, and we functioned from beginning to end as one fully integrated team."

"O'Melveny litigators look forward to nothing more than an opportunity to meet an adversary in a courtroom, and hold them to the applicable burden of proof," added Godesky.
