O'Melveny & Myers LLP's representation of the Special Committee of the board of directors Feihe International, Inc., in connection with the Company's entry into a merger agreement with affiliates of Morgan Stanley Private Equity Asia in a "going private" transaction, was noted by several publications including peHub, IPFrontline, and PEI. The deal is valued at US$147 million and expected to close in the second quarter of 2013. Feihe is one of the leading producers and distributors of premium infant formula, milk powder, and soybean, rice, and walnut products in the People's Republic of China. The O'Melveny team was led by partner Paul Scrivano (San Francisco), counsel Nima Amini (Hong Kong), and partner Geng Ke (Beijing), and included associate Jiangshan Tang (Beijing), partner David Roberts (Beijing), and counsel Jennifer Taylor (San Francisco).
