

In the News

Environmental + Energy Leader: Goldman Sachs Provides US$109 Million in Funding to Duke Energy Renewables

August 19, 2020

RELATED PRACTICES

Corporate & Transactional

Energy, Power and Infrastructure Tax

Environmental

Mergers & Acquisitions

Tax

RELATED INDUSTRIES

Energy, Natural Resources & Utilities

O'Melveny advised Goldman Sachs' Alternative Energy Investing Group in providing US$109.4 million of funding to Duke Energy Renewables for commercial and industrial solar projects.

The investment will be used over 18 months to fund a portfolio of 75 megawatts of solar and solar plus storage projects, which will be developed and constructed by Duke Energy Renewables' subsidiary REC Solar, Environment + Energy Leader reported.

Read the full article here.