Anna Pletcher has joined O'Melveny after 10 years as assistant chief of the US Department of Justice Antitrust Division.

"I'm thrilled to be coming to private practice at this point in my career," Pletcher said. "As the tech companies grow larger, we're going to see more intense scrutiny."

Ian Simmons, the firm's antitrust chair, said her experience in the San Francisco area, "a key antitrust market," will greatly benefit the firm.
