O'Melveny partner Elizabeth Dubeck has been named one of Law360's 2019 Project Finance MVPs. The MVP series honors lawyers who have “distinguished themselves from their peers over the past year through high-stakes litigation, record-breaking deals and complex global matters.”

A Law360 profile of Dubeck recognized her work in securing financing for some of the country's most prominent airports. “Dubeck is currently co-leader of a team that represents American Airlines as they try to raise the funds to reconstruct two terminals at Los Angeles International Airport,” the publication reported. “She also represented LaGuardia Gateway Partners on its $2.5 billion redevelopment of the Central Terminal Building at LaGuardia Airport.”

In reflecting on her practice, Dubeck said, “I'm most proud of being able to maintain such a diverse practice and to work on so many varied types of projects at once.”
